In the month of August the Sunday Gospel readings move from the “Sermon in Parables” in Matthew chapter 13, into Matthew chapters 14-16. The heading for this section in the Revised New American Bible is “V: JESUS, THE KINGDOM AND, THE CHURCH.”

In this Sunday’s Gospel, Matthew 14:13-21, when the disciples direct Jesus to “dismiss the crowds so that they can go to the villages and buy food for themselves. Jesus said to them, ‘There is no need for them to go away; give them some food yourselves.’” Jesus challenges his disciples to be stewards of the gifts they have. Jesus models this eucharistic stewardship by the actions we find in the Eucharistic Prayer: He “takes, blesses, breaks and gives” the five loaves and two fish to the disciples to give to the crowds. “They all ate and were satisfied’ and there was an abundance of left overs!

The “Loaves and Fishes” is the only miracle of Jesus — apart from the resurrection itself — that is recorded in all four Gospels. What is even more striking is that Matthew and Mark preserve not one feeding miracle but two. I challenge you to open your bible and find all six!

I encourage you to look at your own stewardship of God’s many gifts in your life. Are you willing to “give them some food yourselves” and TAKE, BLESS, BREAK, GIVE what you have to feed others, physically, emotionally and spiritually?

The memorial of St. Ignatius of Loyola was July 31. The “Susipe,” (meaning receive or take) is a prayer attributed to St. Ignatius. This prayer encourages a stewardship way of life modeled on our experience of the eucharist.

“Take, Lord. Take my liberty. Take my memory. Take my understanding and my entire will. Take whatever I am and have. You have given it all to me. Now I give it all back to you. Do with it whatever you wish. Give me only your love and your grace. With these I am rich enough and desire nothing more.”

MATTHEW 14:20

Seeing as God Sees

FR. THOMAS M. SANTA, CSSR

Even when the apostles think they have anticipated what is needed, they often come up short. Not a lack of preparation or a lack of talent, but something is missing, nonetheless. In the gospel, they announce to Jesus that there is not enough food to eat. The crowds are too massive. They are too far away from the resources they need. But Jesus is not concerned. He sees what they are incapable of seeing. He believes in ways they cannot even begin to comprehend.

In blessing the limited amount of food they scrounge up for him, Jesus reveals to them an abundance they were unable to see. Not only is there enough for all who have assembled, there is more than enough, beyond their wildest imaginings.

How did the apostles understand what they experienced this day? How did they react to the miraculous, overflowing abundance where there was once scarcity? How could there be something where there was nothing?

The real lesson of the gospel is not necessarily the miraculous. Rather, the real lesson of the gospel is found in the invitation to see, to hope, to anticipate that with God all is possible. Even when it seems like a dead end. Even when nothing adds up. Even when you come up short. ●

Reflect

Do you wish you could see a certain person or situation more like the way God sees?

Dear Padre,

Jesus gave his disciples both bread and wine and said, "Do this in memory of me." But our priest decided that we cannot receive from the cup at Communion. Does he have the right to deny his parishioners the Precious Blood?

"The diocesan bishop may lay down norms for the distribution of Communion under both kinds for his own diocese, which must be observed" (Norms for the Distribution and Reception of Holy Communion Under Both Kinds in the Dioceses of the United States of America, 24). (Also see General Instruction of the Roman Missal, 283.) After the COVID-19 pandemic, many parishes did not resume Communion under both kinds. Some opted instead to make the Precious Blood available only on major solemnities. However, "Holy Communion has a fuller form as a sign when it takes place under both kinds" (GIRM 281). "It is most desirable that the faithful, just as the priest himself is bound to do...partake of the chalice (cf. no. 283), so that even by means of the signs Communion may stand out more clearly as a participation in the sacrifice actually being celebrated" (GIRM 85). Still, pastors "should instruct the Christian faithful...that Christ, whole and entire, and the true Sacrament, is received even under only one species, and hence...those who receive under only one species are not deprived of any grace that is necessary for salvation" (GIRM 282). ●

A WORD FROM POPE LEO XIV

[Friendship with the Lord] is achieved first of all in liturgical and community prayer, in which we do not decide what to hear from the Word of God, but it is he himself who speaks to us through the Church; it is then achieved in personal prayer.... Only when we speak with God can we also speak about him.
